

Gallery Walk

WHAT: A technique for engaging with information.

WHY: To get people out of their seats and promote focus, listening, and cooperation. It also helps deepen dialogue and collective work.

HOW: Allow 10-15 minutes for groups to rotate and take-in the work/concepts posted around a room. Best to offer open-ended questions to guide their thinking or interact with. Can be done as a solo or small group activity. Ideas, questions or thoughts can be added as they engage. The information posted around the room is offered by the facilitator or participants.

WHEN: Best used to raise energy levels and invite reflection and collaboration among participants.

VIRTUAL APPLICATION: Participants are invited to visit other people's work in a single or across multiple shared documents (Google, Microsoft).
